
Multiple identical seed points indicate deterministic fits, not independent replications.