
Each source is held out from training; results aggregate five seeds per source × method.